This final Resilience Advantage webinar for 2021 combines many of the best interviews and case examples from this year's examination of important aspects of resilience. Attendees will hear a recap of how buildings can be cost-effectively designed, built and retrofitted to be more resilient, and how resilience benefits communities and owners. We will also highlight ways to expand your knowledge about resilient design, protect businesses and buildings, and harness The Resilience Advantage to protect building owners' investments, occupants and our collective future.
