To whom it may concern,

This letter is to confirm that California Building Officials (CALBO) has postponed our annual conference, originally scheduled for April 5-9, 2020 in Indian Wells, California. Similar to other organizations, our conference was prohibited from taking place due to the actions of federal, state and local health officials.

However; as opposed to simply cancelling our event, we request the assistance of our partners in travel and hospitality to postpone the event. We have successfully rescheduled our conference, now planned to take place July 12-15, 2020 near San Diego in Carlsbad, California. These circumstances were indeed uncontrollable, and with that, CALBO is asking for the support of the travel and hospitality industry to provide maximum flexibility with your reservation policies.

In these challenging times, hospitality is essential, and we have faith that you will uphold the highest standards for your guests and customers. Thank you for doing your part to help our communities stay safe as our nation continues to grapple with the ensuing pandemic.

We appreciate your understanding and assistance in advance. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact CALBO at your convenience.

Best regards,

Matthew Wheeler, DPPD
Executive Director
